Contemporary Romance

CJ Lomax

People called me a fast woman—not because I slept around—because I broke men’s hearts on the racetrack when I beat them. While climbing up stock car’s highest level of racing, I learned three truths: Adrenaline was my drug of choice, wearing a pair of heels was a form of torture, and I didn’t have time for distractions—especially from men.

I had one goal—a Cup Series contract—and it was within my reach. Until Grady McBane cut me off—sending me, and my dreams, into a tailspin.

Grady McBane

The moment the beautiful, spitfire CJ Lomax tripped into my arms, it felt right. Then Karma stepped in and laughed—Redeeming my reputation meant ruining her dream. Even though I needed the contract to salvage my career, I found myself chasing her instead of racing her. Her focus, her sass, her grit...her passion. I wanted it—I want her.

Could we cross the finish line without wrecking each other’s hearts?

Strap in for a hell of a ride.
